

Dreams and Astrological Psychology - Contents

Preface, Introduction

I. The Prevailing Waning Consciousness

II. The New Consciousness

III. Exploring the Wider Circumference of the Self

IV. World Views in Collision

- A. Dualism vs. Pre-established Harmony
- B. Materialism vs. Spiritual Psychology
- C. The Symbolic Life – Justification for the Belief in Dream Study and Astrology
- D. Mind-Body Interaction in life and death
- E. The Breakup of Dimensions of Time and Space

V. Astrological Psychology

VI. Dreams' origin and influence on personal development

VII. Types or Categories of Dreams/Fantasies

- A. Precognitive Dreams
 - B. Teleological-healing Dream
 - C. Dreams reveal a personal unconscious structure
 - D. Dreams of Anima and Saturn, Moon and Venus in the Radix, House and Moon Node Charts
 - E. The Animus can reveal the man she will find and lead to individuation
 - F. Dreams or sleep states can reveal communications with deceased persons
 - G. Dreams can compensate for one-sided complexes
 - H. Dreams can lead to Individuation as the emotional attachment to ego identifications wane
 - I. Traumatic Dreams
- Conclusion

Appendix 1 – Triple Charts for John D. Grove

Appendix 2 – Psychological Astrology: Signs, Planets and Houses

Notes